

Abstract of the Disclosure

A centrifugal separator includes a rotor. In the rotor, contact portions each for coming into contact with an outer surface of the cap of a sample tube are formed in open end sides of storing holes. The contact 5 portions respectively have notches at portions thereof which face an axis. An adapter for a centrifugal separator is also disclosed.